Flowers can be grown from seed easily if a few simple rules are followed. A few minutes reading the following suggestions will help you have a better flower garden.

ANNUALS grow from seed, bloom, and die within one season.

BIENNIALS require two seasons to complete their growth, and seldom bloom until the second year. They make strong root-growth and foliage the first year. This remains over winter. The second year they bloom, seed, and then die.

PERENNIALS do not, as a rule, bloom until the second year from sowing of the seed, although there are numerous perennials which bloom the first year from seed. They are hardy and will not freeze out, blooming year after year. Some last a lifetime; others may reach their age limit in three or four seasons.

Days required for seed to germinate. We have listed after most kinds of flowers the approximate number of days it requires for the seed to germinate. However, sunshine, moisture, depth of planting and conditions of the seed-bed have much to do with healthy germination. Do not be impatient! Give the seed time to germinate.

Start plants indoors. It takes from 8 to 10 weeks to produce good healthy plants ready to bloom, so if you start your seeds indoors in February, March or April, you will have plants that will start blooming early. Sow flower seed outside only after the soil has warmed up. This is usually in May.

Prepare the soil well. Soil for starting flower seeds should be well prepared. This is very essential, for the tiny seeds as they germinate cannot push up through a heavy, lumpy soil. Use a light, rich loam, and add to it $\frac{1}{2}$ Vermiculite (see page 39). Sifting the soil to remove all debris and lumps is ideal, and is a good rule to follow. Sow the seeds carefully in rows and cover very lightly. A good rule is to cover the seed with very fine soil, only to a depth of several times the size of the seed. Very fine seeds such as Petunia should be sown on the surface and lightly pressed into the soil.

Germinating seed needs to dry out briefly only once to be destroyed. Give a good watering with a fine misty Spray Bulb (see page 38) at the time of planting. Cover the soil with newspaper, glass or plastic to prevent the moisture from evaporating. Check frequently to see that the soil does not dry out.

Light is not essential until the day the seed sprouts. It is better to keep the soil covered and dark while waiting for germination, for this will help to prevent evaporation.

Temperature is a very important factor. If you are starting seed indoors, 70 degrees is the temperature you should try to maintain. This will give you the most rapid germination and help to eliminate many of the pre-germination dangers. If you are planting outside, wait until the soil has been warmed up by the sun. You'll be much farther along.

After germination. Don't over-water. Water only when needed by the plants, and then water thoroughly. If you water too much, you will have trouble with damping-off. Give plenty of light and air.

Transplant. Transplant as soon as there is one set of true leaves. Try to keep as much soil as possible on the roots. This makes for less shock. Try to plant shallow; in this way stem rot due to deep planting is eliminated. Transplant into Vita Bands, the plant band with the plant food right in it. (See it on page 59.) The nutrient-treated walls of Vita Band D allow the plant to grow sturdy, and then you plant the plant, band and all, without disturbing the roots. The band disintegrates in the soil.

Preparing the soil in your garden. Plow or spade your garden as soon as it is dry enough to work. A good test is to mold a handful of soil into a ball with the hands. If the ball is not sticky but crumbles readily when pressed with the thumb, the soil is ready to be worked. After spading, rake or harrow the soil well to remove sticks and stones and to break up all the lumps. A few extra minutes spent in preparing the soil will reward you handsomely in better germination and healthier plants later on. Add a good quantity of Wizard Brand Manure, Vigoro, or 5-10-5 commercial fertilizer to the soil and rake it in before planting. Plants must have food—a complete meal to live on—so do not neglect them. Feed at planting time and regularly during the growing season.

BLUEBERRIES

These delicious Blueberries grow in big clusters and yield 5000 to 8000 pints per acre. They are easy to harvest, are thornless, and the plants last a lifetime and give a bigger yield every year. Delicious eaten directly from the plant, also can be enjoyed from your freezer. They do well in any acid soil. If your soil is sweet, use peat moss or partially rotted vegetable matter around the plants to create acid.

Every home-garden should have a few plants and farmers should plant quite a lot of them. Plant two or three varieties to cross-pollinize for best results. These three each ripen for two weeks, thus giving you six weeks of Blueberries.

June (early); Rancocas (mid-season); Jersey (late).

Schell's Quality Lawn Grasses

Some Suggestions for Establishing and Maintaining a Good Lawn

Grass seeds may be sown at any time during the year, provided facilities are available for watering. Spring and fall are the times when rainfall is most likely to be abundant.

To have a good lawn, prepare the soil well. Work the soil up as fine as possible, raking it well to break up all the lumps and to remove stones and sticks. If the soil is heavy and tends to bake hard in dry weather, work into the soil a good quantity of peat moss. A bale of peat moss should be worked into the top 4 inches of soil on about 300 square feet of area.

Be sure to fertilize. Rake into the top soil a good fertilizer like Royster 5-10-5 at the rate of 40 lbs. per 1000 square feet. Wizard Brand Cow or Sheep Manure are also excellent, using about 50 lbs. per 1000 square feet.

In seeding a new lawn, to insure a thick even turf, sow 1 pound to every 200 square feet, that is 10 feet wide and 20 feet long. 200 lbs. will sow an acre. If you are renewing or renovating an established lawn which is thin in spots, sow 1 pound to every 500 square feet.

After seeding the new lawn, roll the planted area with a light roller or press the seed into the soil with a flat board.

Drying out is fatal. Keep the newly sown lawn moderately moist by light, mist-like sprinkling or by covering with burlap until the grass is through the soil. Allowing the soil to dry out just when the seed has started to germinate, is fatal to the seed, and it cannot germinate a second time; it must be resown. Avoid too severe watering, which packs the soil.

We Recommend SCHELL'S QUALITY LAWN GRASS SEED for a Beautiful Lawn

For the Finest Lawn in Town SCHELL'S MERION LAWN GRASS MIXTURE

Merion is the newly developed sturdy, drought and disease-resistant Blue Grass producing fine-bladed permanent grass that stays green longer. Pennlawn Fescue, the "wonder grass," a development of Pennsylvania State University, is also in this mixture along with a small amount of Red Top as a nurse crop. Sow this seed and the result will be a beautiful lawn that will remain beautiful even under tough family use. Deeper, stronger roots produce thicker turf with less seed. Sow 3 lbs. to 1000 square feet.

Successive plantings may be made every 3 weeks until August 1. You will have Beets all summer, with the last crop for winter use. At this last planting put out all you can to provide for your own use, for canning, and for selling all winter. This is one of the important crops so necessary to provide for winter vegetables. Schell's Quality Bush Lima BEANS

Grow lots of Limas this year for canning, freezing, drying for winter, and for fresh-out-of-the-garden use. We pay the postage.

HOW TO GROW BUSH LIMAS. Make the rows 2 feet apart. If the soil becomes hard or crusted keep it broken up, or your Limas will never come up. Do not plant Limas until the soil is warm, about May 15 in this latitude. Planting too early, when soil is cold, often results in the seed rotting and makes replanting necessary. Plant Lima Beans carefully, edgewise with the eye down, cover 1 inch if soil is moist, or 1½ inches if soil is dry; on every 5 or 6 inches in the row. Keep out of them when the plants are wet. Excellent green, dried, and canned. Two pounds will plant 150 feet of row; 60 pounds to the acre.

HOW TO GROW THEM. Carrots grow the best in deep, loose, fertile soil, although any good garden soil well worked as deep as possible, will produce Carrots. SWEET CORN

Corn needs it. Wizard Brand Pulverized Sheep or Cattle Manure is fine for Corn (we have it). For tractor cultivation, make rows 3 feet apart, for the home-garden 2 feet apart, and plant the hills about 15 inches apart in the rows. The early varieties, producing smaller stalks can be planted closer than the big late Corns. If planted very early, before the soil is warm, of course you take some risk of the seed rotting. If it does, don't blame the seed; remember that you took a risk against nature. Most gardeners take such a risk in order to get very early crops. Cover seed lightly when planted early—about $\frac{1}{2}$ inch and $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches when soil is warm, and deeper in summer when soil is dry. Remember that seed needs moisture and warmth to germinate it. Do not plant just one row of Corn so many feet long of a variety in your garden; plant four rows of it each $\frac{1}{4}$ as long so they are more sure to properly pollinate. This helps to insure a full set of kernels on the ear. Plant every two weeks from May 1 (if warm enough) up to July 15. One pound will plant 150 hills; 12 pounds to an acre.—Can it, freeze it, dry it.

CABBAGE

It is easy and thrifty to grow your own plants and it's fun to sow the seed in boxes (we have them), then transplant them to Vita-Band pots, then set them out in your garden. A pkt. of seed will give you several hundred plants, plus the pleasure of growing them.

One ounce of seed will make about 2500 plants; 4 ounces enough plants for an acre. Always sow plenty of seed to give you all the plants you need—your surplus you can readily sell at a profit. Early Cabbage may be started indoors in February or March and outdoors in April and May. Sow seed of late varieties outdoors in April or May.

Schell's Early Perfection. A large second-early, round-headed Cabbage of the greatest value. Schell's "Harrisburg" Extra-Early.

This is, without question, the best extra-early round-headed variety. It is very early, forming its hard, heavy, round heads in 62 days. You can grow 150 heads of "Harrisburg" Cabbage on the same space required for 100 heads of other varieties, because the plants of "Harrisburg" are very compact with few outside leaves and these keep close to the head so that you can set the plants 12 inches apart instead of 18 inches as required for other sorts. YELLOW-RESISTANT STRAINS OF CABBAGE

WE SPECIALIZE IN YELLOW-RESISTANT STRAINS

A Cabbage plant with "yellows" appears lifeless and has a yellowish green color. Leaves become curled and later dry with a bluish black cast. Death of the plant results. Cabbage yellows is caused by a soil-borne organism which is capable of living indefinitely in the soil. It is not seed-borne. The only control is through the use of yellow-resistant strains of Cabbage seed. We recommend the following resistant strains if your soil is infested with Cabbage yellows. Time given is the approximate time from transplanting to maturity.

Detroit. (Golden Acre). 55 days. (Y.R.) This is the earliest of the yellow-resistant varieties. The normal marketable heads average 3 pounds in weight and are very uniform, with smooth leaves. Outer leaves are dark green, shading to a lighter green at maturity. Excellent for the early home garden and early market garden. Pkt. 15 cts.; ½oz. 45 cts.; oz. 80 cts.; ¼lb. $2; lb. $6.

Marion Market. 74 days. (Y.R.) This is a selection from Copenhagen Market. The plants are larger and more vigorous than regular Copenhagen Market. Heads are broadly rounded and leaves are bluish green. The 5-pound heads of this fine variety are excellent both for market and for making kraut. Pkt. 15 cts.; ½oz. 45 cts.; oz. 80 cts.; ¼lb. $2; lb. $6.

Jersey Queen. 58 days. (Y.R.) This yellow-resistant selection from Jersey Wakefield remains almost identical with it in type and season. It is highly resistant to the yellows disease. The heads are small, about 2½ pounds, and are conical or pointed. Leaves are smooth, dark green. It allows close planting. This is an early strain for home and market-garden use. It perhaps has the sweetest flavor of any Cabbage grown in the home garden. Pkt. 15 cts.; ½oz. 45 cts.; oz. 80 cts.; ¼lb. $2; lb. $6.

Racine Market. 60 days. (Y.R.) This is the most uniform of all the early varieties. The plant is small in comparison to the 4-pound round head it produces. The smooth leaves are bluish green in color, the head uniform and compact. This variety does not burst easily, and a field may be cut over a period of many days without heads discolored or bursting. Pkt. 15 cts.; ½oz. 45 cts.; oz. 80 cts.; ¼lb. $2; lb. $6.

Globe. 80 days. (Y.R.) A selection from Glory of Enkhuizen. An excellent midseason round-head type maturing a few days later than Marion Market. Heads are globular, very compact, with small core. They weigh about 6 to 7 pounds. A heavy yielder, with very uniform heads. It is excellent for market and shipping, also widely used for kraut. Pkt. 15 cts.; ½oz. 45 cts.; oz. 80 cts.; ¼lb. $2; lb. $6.

Wisconsin Hollander No. 8. 108 days. (Y.R.) This variety was selected from the ever-popular Danish Ballhead. Heads are round, becoming slightly flattened across the top. The color is a deep blue-green. It produces a heavy yield of 7 to 8-pound heads. Good for late shipping and storage. Pkt. 15 cts.; ½oz. 45 cts.; oz. 80 cts.; ¼lb. $2; lb. $6.

Pennvalley. 100 days. (Y.R.) Penn State Ballhead has been a favorite ever since developed at Penn State University. This strain now gives you all the excellent qualities of this fine variety, plus resistance to yellows. Try it this year. Pkt. 25 cts.; ½oz. 60 cts.; oz. $1; ¼lb. $2.75; lb. $9.

Red Hollander. 95 days. (Y.R.) A fine round-head late red Cabbage. Very uniform, 4-pound heads. Foliage is a beautiful dark purple-red. Heads are solid and compact from formation to maturity, permitting early cutting if desired. The deep purple-red goes through the entire head. Excellent for salads. This variety is ideal for late fall shipping and is a good storage Cabbage. Pkt. 15 cts.; ½oz. 65 cts.; oz. $1; ¼lb. $2.25; lb. $9.

Greenback. 74 days. (Y.R.) The medium-sized, firm heads, weighing about 3 to 4 pounds, are very attractive and have excellent quality. This is a vigorous variety, a little later than Copenhagen Market, and adapted to warm or cool seasons. The plants are fairly large, with wavy, dark blue-green leaves. Heads are short cored, solid and deeply rounded. Pkt. 20 cts.; 2 pkts. 35 cts.; ½oz. 75 cts.; oz. $1.25; ¼lb. $3; lb. $10.

CELERY

HOW TO GROW CELERY. To have matured Celery early in the summer, sow seeds of the early varieties under glass or indoors in boxes in February; set the plants out in May. For fall and winter crops, sow the seed in April or May, depending on the condition of the soil. Have the soil worked deep, very fine and loose, moist and warm. Sow the seed in rows a foot apart for hand cultivation. Keep moist; prevent soil from becoming dry or "crusted." For small gardens start your seed in boxes or seed-flats, or if sowing seed outside cover seedbed with burlap bags or any cloth and keep moist until the seedlings are through the ground, then remove the cloth and keep moderately moist, prevent soil drying out, not too wet or they will die of "damping off." In June set the plants 6 inches apart in the rows, having the soil prepared. Make the rows 2 to 3 feet apart. Blanching is done by banking up the earth around the plants gradually until within a few inches of the top, also by use of Bleaching Paper (we have it), and by use of boards. One ounce will produce about 5,000 plants, 15,000 plants for each acre. Celery seed is slow germinating, usually requiring two to four weeks to obtain seedlings. If cold weather causes a check or setback to the young plants, it may eventually result in a large number of "Seeders" in the crop. (Days given are time from setting of plants to maturity.)

HOW TO GROW PEPPERS.

Start the seed in hotbeds, or in boxes or paper pots in March. (We have them; see page 59.) When the plants are about 2 inches high transplant in other boxes, setting them 2 inches apart. Then, when the weather is settled, the soil warm, and all danger of freezing over, set the plants out after first preparing the soil well, working in well-rotted manure or some good fertilizer. For the home-garden set plants a foot apart in the rows and have rows a foot apart. For large plantings make rows 2 feet apart. Do not grow sharp and sweet Peppers together; they will mix. One ounce will produce 1,000 plants; about 10,000 plants to an acre. Seed can be sown outdoors in April or May. Peppers are first green, then red, except yellow varieties. These are first green, then yellow. All can be used, either green or red or yellow. Days given are approximate time from setting out plants until Peppers are ready to pick.

Schell's Wonderful Pea. Largest of all.

Schell's "GOOD-TIMES" Pea A MOST VALUABLE EXTRA-EARLY LARGE-PODDED PEA

You will like it—we believe you will prefer it as positively the finest of all extra-early, large-podded varieties. The pods are deep rich green, holding their color longer than any other; the Peas are large, green, of richest quality, 8 and 9 in a pod; the plants grow 22 inches, and are loaded with Peas. They are upright and sturdy and show a vigorous resistance to adverse conditions, such as excessive heat, moisture, cold, and to insects, too. In other words, it is one of the most robust of all varieties, and this accounts to some degree for its longer yielding period and very heavy crop.

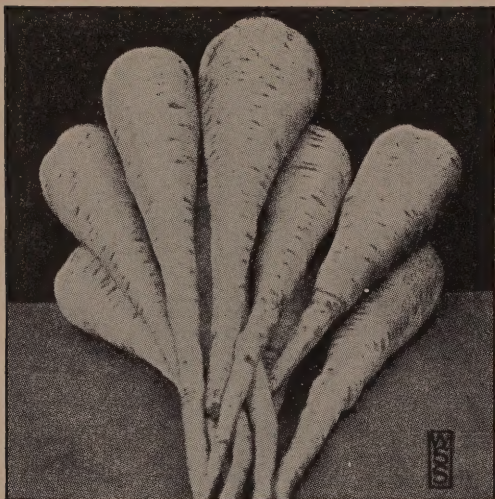

Plant an abundance of this fine variety. We highly recommend "Good Times" Pea; for canning, freezing, and garden fresh, it is one of the best. Schell's Extra-Early Pea, "Good-Times" for your early crop. 63 days. Pkt. 20 cts.; ½lb. 50 cts.; 1lb. 90 cts.; 2 lbs. $1.50; 5 lbs. $3; 10 lbs. $5.50; 15 lbs. $7.80; 25 lbs. $11.25; 50 lbs. $19; 100 lbs. $38, prepaid. (It is wilt-resistant.)

PARSNIP

One ounce will sow a row 150 feet long; 5 to 6 lbs. to the acre. HOW TO GROW THEM.

Parsnips need a deep, loose, rich soil to produce straight, smooth clean roots. Sow seed as early in spring as weather permits, when soil is warm. Make rows 1½ feet apart and sow seed in rows; cover seed ½ inch when soil is moist; then when plants are 3 to 4 inches high, thin out to 4 inches between the plants. The roots are improved in quality and flavor if left in the ground over winter. Enough for winter use should be stored in pits or cellars and covered with earth to preserve their good quality.

IMPROVED HOLLOW CROWN PARSNIP. Our stock is the popular type, much in favor with the gardeners; smooth white, uniform in shape as shown in the illustration; they are extra fine. Pkt. 15 cts.; ½ oz. 25 cts.; oz. 40 cts.; ¼ lb. 85 cts.; 1 lb. $1.90; 2 lbs. $3.50; 5 lbs. $8.

HOW TO GROW RADISHES. For good, tender, well-shaped Radishes, you must have good, rich, deep, well-prepared soil. They cannot do well in hard "clayey" soil. Sow the seed early and make other sowings every two weeks. This gives you fresh tender Radishes all season. If too large a sowing is made at one time, they may get tough or pithy before all can be used. Sow the seed in rows rather than broadcasting it, for when sown in rows they may be kept clean of weeds, and cultivated. Rows may be made 4 or 6 or 12 inches apart, depending on the quantity you are growing. Sow seed thin enough so they do not need to be thinned out. Sow seed of winter Radishes in July and August; then take them up before freezing and store in pits or cover with sand in the cellar, and they will keep fine all winter. One ounce will sow a row 100 feet long; 10 pounds to the acre.

HOW TO GROW TOMATOES. It is easy and economical to grow your own plants. Sow the seed in boxes in the house if you do not have a hotbed; start in February or March. When seedlings are 3 inches tall, transplant them to 3-inch pots (paper or clay) or 4 inches apart in plant-boxes, or use Vita-Bands. A moderate temperature and sun will make strong, sturdy plants. A packet of seed produces several hundred plants; one ounce, 3,000 plants; and 6,000 plants will plant an acre which will yield from 5 to 10 or more tons.

SCHELL'S WONDER HYBRID K374 ¹¹⁵ days

Friends, here is indeed a wonderful Corn. We think it is the grandest Hybrid ever produced. Big ears 9 to 12 inches long, 18 to 22 rows of deep grain, an excellent feeding Corn. The foliage is very dark green, and retains this color when the ears ripen.

As to heat and drought resistance, it is not surpassed by any other. It's borer and chinch-bug resistant. Its strong stalks and good roots make it stand best of all—like a board fence, no stalks down, no ragged leaves, no suckers, no dropped ears, easy to husk, and a good picker Corn.

It is adapted to a wide range of soils from poor to high and for central southern and north central states where yields have been consistently very high. Matures medium early.

We wish we had space to print the many letters we have received from our customers telling how our Wonder Hybrid K374 produced the biggest and best crop of Corn they ever grew.
